Hello, I just want to outline some issues with the text processing in the latest commit:

- When you type a command, the objects in a room are reset. For example, if there is a medkit inside a room and you type "h", the object will be removed, meaning that typing something like "look under the table" won't work after another command is used beforehand.
- This bug was introduced after this commit:
c56e6ebc8ebca1de6df553151877437940b1cf1f
- In order to show you how the commands can be used, please follow the steps below (on the most recent commit, not before the bug):
 1. Go to the cottage
 2. Explore the living room
 3. Type "look under the table"
 4. Choose option: "sneak past her"
 5. Type "look inside the cabinet"
 6. Head to bedroom
 7. Type "look under the bed"
